

TRAVEL STUDY: Bringing Lima to you!

August 1 – August 27, 2021

Gain experience in the Global Health field while learning how diversities and disparities in people and places impact human health, using Peru as a case study. Discover Peru's rich history, archaeology, cultural, and ecological diversity.

Directed by Dr. Kelika Konda, UCLA David Geffen School of Medicine & UCLA International Institute

Required Courses:

- GLB HLT 110A (4 units)
Global Health in Practice
- GLB HLT 110B (4 units)
Diversities & Disparities: The Case of Peru

Virtual Study Abroad:

In addition to the same academic content as planned, your program may include the following virtual experiences:

- Discussions with health clinics & nonprofits
- Peruvian cooking lesson
- Tour of Lima and historical sites
- Museum visit

Program Fees*:

UC - $2,900
Visiting - $3,400

Fees include: Tuition and fees, course instructions, virtual engagements*